

EV Cables use KhooCommerce software to process their orders from consumers, wholesalers, and Amazon Vendor, and enable them to sell in multiple currencies.

What can KhooCommerce do for you?

KhooCommerce provide a solution by which an Amazon Vendor can link their Vendor account (via EDI integration) to the KhooCommerce order management software.

In Amazon's own words, this integration is "designed to take the normal business to Amazon Vendor presence and an online store.

How does it work in practice?

EV Cables Limited recently implemented the KhooCommerce Vendor solution. Within a few months, KhooCommerce enabled them to automate managing their sales and expand their presence across multiple channels.

"For some time I have been looking for solution that would integrate Amazon Vendor accounts in multichannel platforms. Finally we have discovered "KhooCommerce", a UK based solution provider."

business processes and accelerate and automate them to help reduce costs and improve efficiency as our companies interact."

Once the integration is setup, the system allows you to automatically create:

- Purchase Orders
- Invoices
- Advance Shipping Notifications (ASN)

This saves significant time, money and reduces the risk of human error in managing both an
